Grades Satisfy Lt. Ferguson

Lt. Russell Ferguson expressed slight satisfaction over the grades of servicemen on the Bowling Green Station as indicated by grade estimates received last week.

Though the point averages of the men are not yet available, indication is that they will be about as usual. The number of failures is about the same percentage as in previous terms.

Failures are dealt with by enforced study hours. Men are required to repeat failed required courses in the number of terms originally allotted to them. No extension of time is granted. Inability to complete the course in time necessitates removal from the program.

G. Dewey Speaks To Quill Types

Mr. Godfrey Dewey will speak to the Quill-Type meeting at 4 p.m. today in Studio B of the Practical Arts Building.

Mr. Dewey will talk about "Script Shorthand," a system he has perfected. He has spent many years research, which is indicated by the fact that the major foundations of the system's structure also became an important source of data for basic English.

The research that Mr. Dewey made, which began as a hobby between his activities in winter sports at Lake Placid, New York, has been widely used in this country and abroad.

World Student Service Drive Will Be From May 10 to 15

The World Student Service drive, sponsored by the YWCA and YMCA, will open May 10 and continue through May 15. This fund has been created by American students as a means of expressing their solidarity with their suffering fellow students all over the world.

Americans, through the WSSF, are not doing the job of student war relief alone. They are only part of the great enterprise of world student relief, in which the students of Great Britain, Sweden, Canada, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand, Portugal, India, South Africa unite. Wherever funds can be raised freely and money sent out of the country, there will be an organization working as a part of World Student Relief.

Even in China and southern France where students are receiving aid, they are also raising

There are parts for 15 men, and all University students, civilian and military, are eligible to try out. Rehearsals will be scheduled so that actors will not be required to give up much time. Many of the parts are small.

The new rule of self discipline was inaugurated by Lt. McCurdy, commander of the unit. No demerits are given under the new system, no hill squad, no daily inspection by officers and chiefs. The men check on themselves in keeping rooms and campus orderly under the supervision of section leaders.

Many of the Bowling Green V-12 Marines transferred here from Gustavus Adolphus in March.

Criticism Is Made of Play, Not Director or Actors

By JEAN HARSHMAN
If any criticism is to be made of "Mr. Pim Passes By," it should be made of the play itself and not of the directing, technical work, or acting.

Presented by the University Players last Friday and Saturday nights, this English comedy written by A. A. Milne was not as popular with the students as other plays have been.

Gamma Phi Beta Heads War Drive

The grand council of Gamma Phi Beta, in the name of each of its 48 college and 90 alumnae chapters, has undertaken the purchase of hospital equipment and medical supplies through the medium of war bonds, which are to be bought and sold by the members of the Sorority. Gamma Phi Beta is the first international sorority to undertake a project of this kind.

For its first national goal, Gamma Phi Beta has chosen the purchase of a hospital service plane of which there is great need for the transfer of the wounded, the moving of hospital equipment, and the transportation of the medical staff. These planes are priced at $110,000, and the money must be raised in a six-week period which began April 25 and will end June 6.

The local chapter and the town alumna chapter have put into effect plans for the pledging of bonds toward the drive. Dorothy Hodgkins, appointed chairman of the active chapter and Lois Hartman, appointed chairman of the alumna chapter, are directing the "Bonds Buy Mercy" campaign under the supervision of the War Finance Division.

The Alpha Epsilon sorority will be represented by June Bruce and Alice Cadwell; the Alpha Phi sorority will be represented by Marilyn Johnson and Betty Weaver; the representatives from the Alpha Xi Delta sorority are Virginia Falknor and Portia Semans; Eva Marie Saint and Beryl Stevenson will represent Delta Gamma sorority.

The representatives from Gamma Phi Beta sorority are Janey Rothe and Lucille Rickel; the Las Amigas sorority has nominated Mary Holt and Gene Moomey; the Phratra sorority has nominated Winifred Shelles and Katie Lou Snyder. The representatives from Shatzel Hall are Jane Byrnes and Juanita Neal. The Women's Building representatives are Mary Mead and Barbara Smith.

Dr. Weber has been in charge of general construction. Prof. E. C. Powell has done the construction work.

Juvenile Researchist Has Interest In Young People

Dr. Maurice Newburger of the Juvenile Research Bureau has an interest in young people. The father of a three-year old girl and a boy of nine months, he is the head of the juvenile clinic located on the second floor of the Elementary Building.

Recently, his work with young folk caused him to be chosen as a speaker at a meeting of the Service Training Program for juvenile judges and probation officers in Toledo. The topic of his address was "Mental Factors and the Treatment of a Child."

He pointed out factors of importance in the development of delinquency and demonstrated that heredity is of far less importance than most people believe. "The environment and the status of the child himself," said Dr. Newburger, "are the factors which are of greatest importance. One aspect of the child is his mental status. This may occupy any point on a wide range."

"There are various aspects of intelligence, and generally, people have an unequal distribution of abilities so that, while they may be poor students, they may have social maturity, mechanical ability, or some other ability developed to a fairly great degree."

Most of the children that the clinic sees are sent by the schools. They are children who are failing to learn school material as well as might be expected, or those who have behavior problems. The number of infants are referred for a determination of their mental status so that they can be placed in proper homes for adoption.

"All in one day," Dr. Newburger went on, "I saw a boy who had been arrested for auto stealing, another who has become a truancy problem and is reported to have stolen and influenced other children to follow him and his ways. I saw a girl who has developed physical symptoms which are emotionally based and which prevent her from going to school, and a small boy, no longer able to be controlled by his school, who carries on such aggressive behavior as stealing, fighting, and cursing."

"I saw a 16 year old girl who is beginning to stay out until three and four at night and I saw a girl, retarded in school, who has apparently been influenced by an old-

One of the most outstanding examples of environment is the case of a three-year old girl who was brought to the clinic shortly after it opened two years ago. She had been removed from her own home after not receiving proper care. Her foster parents reported that when taking off her clothing to clean her, part of her skin came with it. At his first meal in her new home, she got up on the table and ate out of the dishes with her hands as though she were an animal.

When we consider that in the short life of the clinic it has handled approximately 700 cases, we can in some manner see just what type of work it is doing. The call for social workers is greater today than it has been at any time before.

Campus Is Lovely...

Now that a few balmy days have finally come to Bowling Green, we notice how lovely the campus really can be.

Let's help to keep that loveliness by thinking before we throw waste paper on the lawns, by taking the long way around instead of walking on the grass, and by simply helping to keep the place cleaned up.

What Is Education?...

Heralded by some observers as an educational "block-buster" is a statement by Arthur Cutts Willard, president of the University of Illinois: "Merely completing the study of a collection of college courses for which a degree is awarded as a prerequisite to enter some professional field is not an education, nor is it ever likely to produce a broadly educated man."

Other educators have said that. President Willard has said it before—but never so bluntly. And Willard is an engineer—internationally known in his field.

President Willard is seeking the solution to a dual problem: Producing graduates who are "educated," not just "trained" in a specialty, and providing educational benefits to students who drop out of college after one or two years with little benefit from an uncompleted professional course.

Declaring too much emphasis has been given to professional competence—"training"—and too little emphasis to developing ability to think and acquire information about men and affairs—"knowledge"—President Willard set up five "ideal criteria for identifying an educated man." They are:

"1. Ability to use and understand his native tongue in speech and writing, in order to convey his ideas and thoughts clearly and effectively to others. Of course this implies that he has ideas and thoughts and wishes to transmit them."

"2. Ability to judge, compare, evaluate, in short to criticize objectively, the ideas, thoughts, and conceptions of other men, and to engage in creative thinking for himself. Men express themselves in speech, the press, books, movies, works of art, laws, and religious beliefs. The educated man should have acquired standards and perspectives on which to base critical appraisals of such expressions. He should also be able to recognize the true and detect the false, including the moral values and purposes which inspire the lives of men."

"3. Knowledge of man and their affairs. Such knowledge is secured through study of our own and other people's cultures, their languages, customs, laws, religions, and history. Travel by land, sea, and air promotes and complements such study in endless ways."

"4. Knowledge of the physical world and the universe in which he lives, meaning, of course, some understanding of the laws and forces of nature. Such knowledge ranges from astronomy to bacteriology, from the very great to the very small. It includes all fields of natural science."

"5. Knowledge of a profession or a vocation for the purpose of earning a living and serving God and society as a competent and morally responsible individual."

"We train men for all the professions and vocations, but we often fail to educate even those who receive collegiate degrees."—ACP

There was a little girl
And she had a little curl
Right in the middle of her forehead
And when she was good
She was very, very good,
But when she was bad
She was more interesting.

Upperclassman: "How many studies are you carrying?"
Freshman (with a sigh):
"I'm carrying one and dragging four."

She: "And what do you fellows talk about after the dance?"

He: "Oh, the same things that you girls talk about."

She: "Oh! You horrid things."

Bore: "I passed by your house the other night."

Bored: "Thanks."

Betty: "How do you like my new gown? I got it for a ridiculous price."

Anne: "You mean for an absurd figure, don't you?"

Gal: "I wonder why they hung that picture?"

Guy: "Maybe they couldn't find the artist."

Ivan: "If you won't marry me, I'll blow up this house and everything in it."

Olga: "Oh, Ivan you're just too, too killing!"

"Any particular choice of cut?" said the butcher.

"Yes," replied the harassed customer, "I'd like a 50 percent cut in the price."

"Mother, please don't call me a lamb before Bob."

"But why not, dear?"

"It makes me feel so sheepish."

Jeanie: "My roommate has been nursing a grouch for several days."

Pat: "Oh, I didn't know you had been sick."

Self-righteous Senior: "Young man, did you ever earn a dollar in your life?"

Freshman: "Yes, I voted for you in the last election."

Moron: "Say, you don't happen to have a piece of toast do you?"

Visitor: "Why?"

Moron: "Well, I'm a poached egg, and I'd like to sit down!"

war marriages

by BETTY ROSECRANS

A wartime campus is the normal campus of today. Practically every University and large college has some unit of our armed forces on its campus.

A cross section of a wartime campus may be seen at Bowling Green State University. We have approximately 800 civilian students and 500 in the V-12 and V-5 units. We have various war activities, such as the Red Cross, Allied War Relief, Campusteen. We have the Color Guard who raises our American flag; we hear the drone of the training planes. We're familiar with the uniforms of the apprentice seamen and Marine privates; and we like the formation marching of the air cadets.

War marriages are noted in this cross-section of a wartime campus. In nearly every sorority house or dormitory lives a bride who is finishing her school while her husband is helping to finish the war. Many girls are planning to be married this spring, and then come back to school next fall to finish their work. Look around you in your next class and see how many coeds are wearing a diamond on the third finger, left hand, or has a fraternity pin 'neath her sorority pin.

Newest fad that has come to light is raising chickens by coeds in one of the dormitories at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio. The chicks are tended most carefully by the motherly coeds. Some are even being groomed for glamour careers—painted toe nails and all.

The student union at South Dakota State College is fitted with soft wood panels for students to scratch, cut or write their names. At present there are about 200 such identification marks on each panel. As soon as the two lower boards are completely filled, they will be nailed to the ceiling and new ones will take their place.

Students at Western College, Oxford, Ohio, have found the answer to the problem of how to keep up-to-the-minute with the news while leading a life crowded with lectures, labs and studies. For their benefit, WCCO, intramural public address system, broadcasts a three minute digest of the day's headlines every evening during the dinner hour.

pains

By JO ANN SIMMONS

To a youngster, things which later seem humorous sometimes appear dark at the time of their happenings. Think back on some of your childhood experiences for a minute. Just for fun, let's pry into some of these "pains of the past" and see what happens.

One of my most vivid memories concerns politics. I can remember my father's ardent desire to get a friend of his elected sheriff.

Mr. "Chops" Herriff had been running for sheriff for the past three elections. Before that, he had tried every other office that was minor enough to consider him, but he is one of these fellows who don't believe in giving up until "the last dog is hung"—or his last friend is broke. At any rate, Dad spent all of his time going to big, important meetings—commonly referred to as beer parties, while Mother and I spent our time folding campaign letters and licking stamps.

My brother lectured from a soapbox, and my sister sold kisses for votes. The dog was trained to point at a life-size portrait of "Chops" when he was asked who the next sheriff was going to be, and the cat carried a sign between her teeth.

Even our car was involved. Our pride and joy—the first new car we'd had since '23—barely escaped the horrid fate of being painted a gruesome green. Thank heavens, Mr. Herriff had another friend whose family didn't hear of the plan in time.

Unfortunately, though, our car did get the job of carrying a huge sign for five weeks. First we talked, then we walked. Nothing we could say would convince Dad that the sign shouldn't be put there, so we avoided using the car as much as possible.

It was quite a sign, though. Every time the brakes were applied, it beamed out in red and green lights, "HERRIFF FOR OUR 'CHOPS', and a brass band rang out in a chorus of "Deep in the Heart of Taxes."

As you may have guessed, Mr. Herriff came in fourth—there were four candidates. Dad was sick for weeks, Mother collapsed, "Chops" retired in the Old Folks' Home, and we kids took the sign down.

It was a shamed prof who later went to the post office to reclaim his property and mail the letters.

nestward, ho!

MILITARY MUSINGS...

Come on, fellows, now is the time to fix up a super date for big doings this coming weekend! Who knows but what you might be escorting the coed commander herself? Let's put all we've got into this one big Morale Builder...

WE'RE SORRY...

To hear that Jim Feely had a little bad luck the other day in the track meet... Which reminds us that Donna (scarlet fever) Brown is home now convalescing... Hurry back, Donna.

HABIT FORMING, HM?...

Doctor Alden has done it again twice—he keeps referring to various reasons for population growth... like famine.

CAPERS IN COLUMBUS...

Why is Janet "Sandwich" Carino's face slightly rosy when asked if she always carries food around in such bulky quantities?... And who was it that talked about rooming with a rival at State and then walked into her room to discover the situation just as imagined...

FIRE...

They tell us that somebody was mighty embarrassed the other night over Kohl way! It seems that a slight fire on the stove made a good excuse for a realistic fire drill—so—the boys were all quite willing with the possible exception of Chuck Rose who had to be carried out by Bill Newkirk despite protestations about his attire—and maybe the girls sitting out in front were a little embarrassed too!

CLASSROOM CHATTER...

It seems that Kay Carras really thinks that sometimes people do find their careers in college! (Would that be a thing or a person, Kay?)... And Jeanne Powell gave as an excuse for not hearing the question in class the other day the fact that it is the usual custom of some professors to go up one row and down the other—not jump around! And I heard in class the other day that Dave Thompson and Danny Santavicea picked up a "jinx" on the trip back from Martins Ferry recently.

WE WEREN'T AWARE...

That many people liked salt in their coffee until we heard that Alpha Phi district officer Miss Proide had it in the nest the other day without even asking for it.

CONGRATS TO SINGERS AND SWIMMERS...

Loud were the praises for our own Swan Club a couple of weeks ago when they swam for the Rotarians... and they tell us that members of the naval audience for Treble Clef in Toledo want the girls to come back for a dance (prepare for an onslaught, John Paul.)

MARINES ALWAYS LAND FIRST...

When Norm Knisely presented the cake to the Alpha Phi's for their prize carnival booth, Marine Bill Burns and Company were right there to escort the cake bearer home.

IT'S GOOD TO SEE...

Cotton dresses and coeds with newly acquired sun burns and buds on the trees... It's good old quarry weatherand... just wonderful weather for a good case of Peacetime springtime fever!

Pvt. Robert Bowers writes, from somewhere in Italy, the following to Dr. Prout.

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am now in the front lines. It is quite a feeling to know that the enemy is just a little bit in front of you. At times it has gotten rather 'hot' here, especially when Jerry's shells start falling all around you. It does my heart some good to know that we are hitting the enemy a little bit anyway. I have been rather nervous since coming here, but think I will get over that in a short time."

"I received two copies of the Bee Gee News since I have been up here and it has shot my moral up 50 pr cent. You don't know how much things like that help us... I hope everything around the school is running in tip top shape. Give my regards to the faculty and all of my friends."

Cindermen Open Season Against Western Michigan

Falcons Split Doubleheader In Opening Baseball Game

The 1944 Bowling Green baseball team split their opening doubleheader with Ohio Wesleyan by losing the first game 8 to 7 and coming back to win the second game 1 to 0 here on the local diamond last Saturday afternoon.

Coach Steller sent 16 Falcons into the game in an effort to defeat the Bishops but Ohio Wesleyan's advantage of having one victory tucked away already this season at the hands of Capital University overcame the untested Falcon brood in an extra inning game.

McMillan, the Bishop's center-fielder, the first man up drew a walk. After Esteppe, Wesleyan pitcher struck out, shortstop Hagemester doubled to left field driving in McMillan for the first run for Ohio Wesleyan. The Bishops added two more in the fourth inning and one in the fifth and sixth inning to lead 5 to 0.

In the Falcons' half of the sixth, shortstop DiMarco led off with a double to left field. After second baseman Don Kuhlman grounded out, big Jim Woods singled to right field and DiMarco scampered home with Bowling Green's first run of the game of the season. Denny Aeschliman, Falcon first baseman then doubled to left sending Woods to third but the rally was stopped as Esteppe struck out the next two batters.

In the last inning of this seven inning ball game, Ed Conley, Falcon third sacker, trotted down to first base after being hit by pitcher Esteppe. Jim Bloomfield pinch hitting for pitcher Barnes grounded out short to first. The leadoff man Stan Urban, Falcon left fielder, doubled into left center driving in Conley for Bee Gee's second run. Wayne Zahn now playing short for Bowling Green singled to center scoring Urban and the rally was on. Kuhlman drove one to deep short and shortstop Hagemester zipped the ball to second-baseman Beatty but when the dust cleared Zahn was on second safely and Kuhlman had reached first. Woods next up forced Kuhlman at second. Aeschliman cracked one into right centerfield for a three base hit, scoring Zahn and Woods to tie the score at 5 and 5. Johnny Jeremiah, catcher, grounded out third to first and the ball game went into extra innings.

In the Bishops half of the eighth Hagemester doubled to left. First baseman Marshall followed with a single to right which scored Hagemester breaking the tie. Before the rally was stopped two more runs had crossed the plate making the score 8 to 5. The Falcons scored two in their half of the inning but rapid fielding plays stopped their threat as the Bishops won their second straight game of the season.

Bowling Green 1, Ohio Wesleyan 0

In the second game the Falcons behind the masterful two hit pitching of Al DiMarco chalked up their initial win of the season. DiMarco kept his catching partner Jim Wood busy as he struck out 11 men, striking out the entire side in the fifth and seventh innings. Peterson, Wesleyan pitcher, likewise was stingy with hits as he gave up only six.

With the pitchers having complete control of the game Aeschliman, Falcon first sacker, in the last half of the seventh led off with a single to left. Bob Tenhundfeld beat out a bunt on the third base line sending Aeschliman to second. Aeschliman and Tenhundfeld then advanced a base when Beryhill, Bishop catcher, dropped one of Peterson's pitches. Will Zaudkte pinch-hitting for Martin, Beryhill, Wesleyan catcher, let another pitch slip through his grasp and Tenhundfeld broke for home, sliding headfirst for the winning and only run of the ball game.

Leathernecks Defeat Sailors In Second Intra-Service Meet

For the second time in less than two weeks the Marines defeated the Navy men on the track. The Marine took the indoor meet from the Navy 55-45 in a spectacular finish just two weeks ago, and they came through this past week with a 76-60 win.

At the end of the first night's session the Navy led 33-26 due to winning the pole vault, 880-yard relay, 440-yard run, shot put, mile run, and high jump. The Marines were able to stay in the running by sweeping the high hurdles, and placing in the other events.

On Thursday the Marines came back with a vengeance to win all places in the field events except one. They also took the low hurdles, 880-yard run, and mile relay. The Navy men were able to sweep the dashes and take first in the two-mile run, but after all events were tallied the Marines were on top, 76-60.

Two school records were unofficially broken during the meet. A/S William Lytle broke the old school record of 22 seconds in the 220 yard dash by breasting the tape in 21.9 seconds, while Marine Pvt. Dave Robinson heaved the discus 128 feet 9 inches to top the old record of 125 feet. Of course these marks are unofficial as they were not set during an inter-collegiate meet.

Results of the meet:

100-yard dash—Lytle (N), first; Hess (N), second; Carey (N), third; Time 10
220-yard run—Lytle (N), first; Hess (N), second; Carey (N), third; Time 21.9
440-yard run—Alexander (N), first; Dahl (N), second; Chambers (C), third; Time 52.4

Initial Intercollegiate Track Meet Will Be Here Saturday

The 1944 Falcon track team will pound the cinder path against Western Michigan of Kalamazoo on the local track Saturday afternoon in the first inter-collegiate meet of the season.

Little is known of the Western Michigan team except their reputation of having a strong team every year.

There are only four back from last year's Falcon team. They are A/S Norman Weston, shot put and pole vault; A/S James Baxter, hurdler; and A/S William Lytle and civilian Ralph Klein, dash men.

A number of the servicemen gave promising showing in the two Marine-Navy track meets held here. Although the team has been held back by the coldness and the dampness of the weather the results of the outdoor Marine-Navy track meet sends Coach Whittaker's hopes soaring.

Following is the track schedule:

May	6—Western Michigan
	13—Case
	17—Ohio Wesleyan
	27—Open
June	3—Miami, there
	10—Baldwin Wallace, there
	17—at Ohio Wesleyan Invitational

Track Coach Prefers Football

Because of the name that Coach "Bob" Whittaker has made for himself in football little is known of his accomplishments in track both as a star and a coach. While attending Miami University of Ohio he made a name for himself by running in sprint relays and throwing the javelin. He did not participate in track in high school because he was hard at work putting himself through high school and planning for the days when he could enroll in a college.

While coaching Sandusky high track team he was responsible for turning out a state championship team in 1937. For seven straight years his well-coached teams were the champions of the district.

Starting his third year here as track coach, Mr. Whittaker refuses to make any predictions of the prospects of a good team this year but hopes by careful planning and coaching to turn out another championship at which he always sets his goal.

It is plain to see however where his true love lies and that is on the gridiron, because after talking about track he quickly adds that the fast start that one learns in track is also very helpful in football.

Back in the old days archery was a "must" with the younger generation, dating from the days of Merrie Olde Engle and Robin Hood, the guy who invented the zoot suits. At that time it was considered cricket to snag a fellow in the back of his bloomers, either for downright fun, or maybe a spot of practice.

Now it is thought to be very unsocial to zing an arrow into the posterior of our fellow man and a special target has been designed, thus eliminating most hazards of archery.

Bowling Green has some very good targets just behind the tennis courts waiting for beginning archery enthusiasts. You don't even have to furnish your own bow and arrows. This makes archery easy to take. Bring your arms and the necessary muscles.

White, Christea, Koeppe Win PiKD Women's Debate

The Bowling Green debate team won the women's province debate championship of Pi Kappa Delta last Friday and Saturday at Berea, defeating teams from three states. This tournament, one of nine such war-time meetings sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta in place of the usual biennial national tournament, is the most important of all forensic events for the year.

Alice White, sophomore from Shelby, Aurelia Christea, freshman from Canton, and Mary Ann Koeppe, freshman from Ney, were the winning debaters. Twelve teams competed.

The girls made a perfect record. After winning all four debates on Friday, including one from Michigan State, which was otherwise undefeated, they won over Heidelberg in the finals Saturday morning. The latter school was second with four wins and one defeat, and Michigan State and Kent tied for third.

It was Mary Ann and Aurelia, taking the negative on the question "Resolved, that the United States should cooperate in establishing and maintaining an International Police Force upon the defeat of the Axis," who defeated Michigan State; in the final debate, Bowling Green had the affirmative and was represented by Alice White and Aurelia Christea.

A second Bowling Green combination of Betty Ruth Krabill and Virginia Keller won two and lost two. They debated both sides of the question, switching sides after each contest.

In individual contests Bowling Green was represented in women's extempore speaking, in victory speaking, and in discussion. Aurelia Christea brought Bowling Green a second championship by placing first in extempore against eight other contestants. She placed third in victory speaking.

By winning five times last week end, Aurelia ran her total number of victories for the year to 22. Mary Ann Koeppe and John Henry Wilson ranked second for the season with 13 wins each. Others ranking high were Alice White and Virginia Keller, 10 wins each; Betty Ruth Krabill and Dick Conn, nine each.

They Talked, They Won

Alice White, Aurelia Christea, and Mary Ann Koeppe became the women's province debate champions of Pi Kappa Delta last week when they won the debate tournament at Berea. They are pictured above with debate coach, Dr. Wayne M. Thompson.

Province Director Of Gamma Phi Here

Mrs. Arthur Himes, director of Gamma Phi Beta Province II, was in Bowling Green visiting the local chapter. During her visit a dessert bridge was given in her honor. The local alumnae were invited to the bridge.

Freddy Wood Will Play For Biggest Formal of Year

By KAY CARRAS

This is it! This is the week end of the Military Ball, the outstanding dance of the year! The dance is being sponsored by the Navy V-12, the Marine V-12, and the Navy V-5 Units. Their combined talents have merged to give you a memorable evening.

Overhead the stars will light a pathway to the Men's Gymnasium where soft May breezes will usher you into the lavishly decorated Military Ball. There the melodious strains of Freddy Wood and his Orchestra—straight from the "Black Hawk" in Chicago—will make your dancing feet tingle. Mr. Wood is featuring his lovely songstress, Judy Lane, his twin pianos, and his 14 pieces of real musician's talent. He will be on hand to play from nine until one—four hours of dreamy music.

During the intermission a very special program has been planned with A/S J. W. Chastain acting as master of ceremonies. At this time the Coed Commander will be "commissioned" by Capt. Joseph Anastasio. The candidates for Coed Commander are Betty Weaver, Marilyn Johnson, Beryl Stevenson, Eva Marie Saint, Portia Seamus, Virginia Falknor, Katie Lou Snyder, Winifred Shelles, Mary Holt, Gene Mooney, Jane Burns, Juanita Neal, Lucy Rickel, Janey Rothe, Alice Caldwell, June Bruce, Barbara Smith, and Mary Mead. The "commander" will be in charge of operations for the remainder of the dance.

A very special part of the program will be a marching exhibition by a carefully selected "trick platoon" trained to precision by Capt. Joseph Anastasio and Sgt. James McMullen. These marches "extradonaire" are: Marines, William Bamford, Samuel Cerbus, Richard Cooke, Edward Gilliland, David Girard, Leo Hartig, Jack Lewis, Robert Marotz, Ivan McElvee, Fred Shoenk, V. J. Smith, Jack Sparks, William Zentz, and James Carr; Navy, Daniel Anderson.

It goes without saying that the dance is strictly formal.

The Military Ball committee is headed by the General Chairman of the Dance, Lloyd Siewers. Other members of the committee include: programs, William Jones; decorations, Bill Chastain, Howard Martin, Bob Marotz, and Terry Carey; publicity, Zane Barnes and Carl Anderson; band, William Frohne; lights, George McClain; tickets, Larry Sandburg and William Forrest; advisor, Capt. Anastasio.

Chaperons for the evening include Lt. Commander and Mrs. Jennings Courts, Lt. and Mrs. R. J. Ferguson, Captain Anastasio, Lt. R. E. Jones, Lt. and Mrs. S. B. Kaiz, Lt. and Mrs. F. Siewert, Lt. and Mrs. S. A. Spohn, Pres. and Mrs. F. J. Prout, Dean A. K. Wilder, and Dean and Mrs. A. B. Conklin.
